

WID TVC President's Corner

Our Chapter

Cristina Hinkle WID-TVC President 2009-2011

2010 has been another good year for the WID TVC so far. The Membership Reception on Fat Tuesday was focused on Small Businesses and was hugely successful. We had key representatives from government, industry and the community at large. Our Mentorship Luncheon in March featured Deb Alderson, President of SAIC's Defense Solutions Group out of McLean, VA. We had outstanding attendance and she provided the group with great insight and some very good real life stories.

Dana G Tanner, PhD

Dr. Tanner has more than twenty years experience in the information technology services industry, with eleven years in executive management roles. She is currently providing management, technical direction, and business development for IT Group of PeopleTec, Inc. Embracing the company's core values, leading by example, and mentoring employees through their individual career paths are equally critical to managing the profitability and value of the organization.

For the past two years, Dana provided leadership and coordination support to the National Education Partnership Alliance, under contract to the Space and Missile Defense Command. Efforts included coordination with Redstone-based government agencies as well as colleges and universities to address current and future workforce demands by providing programs to cultivate the next generation government workforce. Additionally, much volunteer time has been spent over the past twenty years in programs designed to convince students (especially girls) to pursue careers in math and science.
